

Harvest Children's Home

Ndichia Ghislain Ngong

“Ghislain”

Family Background & More Information:

Ghislain's mother and father both died around 1998. His father was hospitalized but the hospital was unable to treat him effectively. He has a protruding navel that is large, but seems to cause him very little inconvenience. All the children know about it but they do not tease him for it. He has a selective diet and doesn't like some vegetables that are commonly eaten by others. He is shy but humble and nice to his peers. He is easy-going.

Ghislain wants to be a mechanic when he grows up.
